

Venue and safety information for school group visits to Geoscience Australia

Child Safety

- We make every reasonable effort to provide a safe and comfortable environment for visiting students and teachers.
- All Geoscience Australia Education Centre staff are registered under the ACT Government's Working with Vulnerable People scheme and hold a current first aid certificate.
- Geoscience Australia and school supervising staff both have responsibilities for the duty of care for visitors.
- In exercising its duty of care, Geoscience Australia staff will:
 - take every reasonable effort to ensure the environment is free from hazards
 - not be responsible for supervising children in school groups
 - respond to and resolve any incident caused by or impacting Geoscience Australia
 - abide by the following Code of Conduct:
 - Do not engage in or promote contact with children outside the professional setting.
 - Do not accept gifts from or give gifts to children. This does not exclude staff from giving prizes and giveaways provided they are given transparently and equitably.
 - Do not engage in behaviour (such as talk, touch or preferential treatment) that could be perceived to be inappropriate or favouring a particular child.
 - As far as possible, do not allow yourself to be alone with a child.
 - Do not take photos of children without permission from their supervisor/parent/guardian.
- In exercising their duty of care, school supervising staff are expected to:
 - supervise children for which they are responsible
 - respond to and resolve any incident not caused by or impacting Geoscience Australia
 - inform Geoscience Australia or security staff of any hazard that comes to their attention
 - consider excluding physically unwell children from visiting Geoscience Australia, as recommended by the National Health and Medical Research Council
 - follow Geoscience Australia staff instructions in the event of an emergency or evacuation
 - direct any complaint about a child-safety issue or incident at Geoscience Australia to the Chief Finance and Human Resources Officer.
