

Map Reliability
Topographic information checked from multiple sources including satellite imagery. This map was not field checked. Every effort has been made to make the map a useful reference.

About the NATMAP Series
The 1:1 000 000 map series consists of 50 maps derived from the 1:250 000 map series. These maps are available both flat and folded. For more information contact Geoscience Australia.

Your feedback is Welcome
If you discover errors or omissions on the map, please let us know via the map amendments page on our website or send your annotated map to us. We will replace your map with the corresponding current edition. We value your assistance for the next edition. Email: mapfeedback@ga.gov.au
