

Title: Groundwater for Wallies!

(Western Australian Lovers of Inspirational Earth & Environmental Science!)

For more information contact Louisa Ivey via email Louisa.Ivey@csiro.au or phone 6436 8685

Date: Friday 20th October 2006

Time: 9am – 3:30pm

Location: Whiteman Park - Old School House – see map or <http://www.whitemanpark.com/park/map.asp>

Parking: Carpark 3 or Carpark 1 at Whiteman Park – see map

Who: All Science Teachers and Teachers of Earth & Environmental Science for 2007 (aka Wallies)

Presenters:

- Margaret Smith – Dept of Environment & Conservation,
- Steve Appleyard – Dept of Environment & Conservation,
- Kelli O'Neill – Waterwatch WA/Ribbons of Blue,
- Louisa Ivey – Earth Science Western Australia

Cost: FREE

Food: Morning tea, Lunch and lollies provided (please advise any special dietary requirements)

Details: This will be a fun, informative, hands-on day that is relevant to all science teachers and especially potential teachers of Earth & Environmental Science for 2007. You will be introduced to the concepts of Groundwater and then hear from Perth's local Guru about current issues facing Perth's groundwater. Then you'll be getting wet and dirty hands whilst learning how to measure water and groundwater properties. You will be engaged in activities that you can easily do with your students. Come along and connect with other great science and EES teachers and in the greatest classroom of all – the outdoors!

Bookings via STAWA PH: 9244 1987 or admin@stawa.asn.au

